The canine professionals and HME chemists here at K2 Solutions, Inc. have developed a course for handler teams in order to imprint the canine on HMTD and TATP odors as well as the Tactics, Techniques & Procedures that accompany HME detection. Our program has a specialized exercise to rank each reagent in terms of use and accessibility by terrorists both foreign and domestic. TATP is the most accessible and most-used explosive by terrorists because its precursors can be purchased in pure form. It's also highly unstable with a high detonation velocity, making it an efficient – and lethal – explosive.
